New Catalog for Younger Readers Now Available

The large print edition of For Younger Readers, 2004-2005 is now available. It includes all Braille and cassette books for all ages from preschool through young adult produced by the Library of Congress during 2004 and 2005. Titles are grouped by nonfiction subject or type of fiction.

"What do we live for,
if not to make the world
a less difficult place for each other."

- George Eliot

Volunteer Corner

Several milestones were reached this past year. The first was the 75th anniversary of the signing of the Pratt-Smoot Act that created the program of libraries for the blind. Another milestone reached this past year was the 50th anniversary of the Utah State Library. Another milestone that we will reach this coming year is the 10th anniversary of the construction of our present building.

One thing that has remained constant during this time is the work of the volunteers who render service on behalf of the patrons of the Utah State Library. The library is grateful for all the years of service volunteers have provided, and we look forward to another year working together to help serve the library needs of the blind and visually impaired patrons in Utah and Wyoming.

Thanks

UFB Celebrates 20 Years

You've Got Braille is just one of many programs for blind and visually impaired children and their families in Utah developed over the last 20 years by UFB.

Other activities and programs include:

- Independent Living Skills
- Career Programs
- Braille Challenge
- Social Skills
- Sports Camp
- Recreational Programs
- Athletic Programs
- Space Camp for the Blind
- Educational Programs

UFB is looking forward to hosting the 2008 USA National Goalball Championships in June of 2008.

Libraries Still Lead the Way

What has more cardholders than VISA, more outlets than McDonald's and moves more items than Fed Ex? Your local library! And they do it with a great approval rating. Nearly 90 % of Americans are satisfied with their public libraries and 70 % are extremely satisfied. If you haven't been to your local library lately, check it out.

Bookshare.org Expands Service to Schools

The U.S. Department of Education recently awarded a grant to Bookshare to expand its collection and to provide all U.S. students with qualifying print disabilities free access to the service. Bookshare no longer charges fees for U.S. schools to join. Membership gives schools and their students access to the collection of accessible electronic books and software for reading the books.

Bookshare's collection of over 35,000 titles in the DAISY digital talking book and digital Braille formats will also substantially increase as a result of the grant. Bookshare's talking books are digital files reproduced using synthetic speech software. They are not prerecorded audio book files.

Individuals may also use Bookshare for a fee. To find out more, visit <http://www.bookshare.org>

Reading Room/Social Club

Club Vision at the Andrew S. Rowan Reading Room provides the visually impaired with fun social opportunities centered around lunch, readings by professional readers, live music, and entertaining speakers. Club Vision members from the Greater Salt Lake area meet Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 11:30 am to 2:30 pm at the Elks Club Building at 4894 S. State in Murray.

Club Vision members must have a severe or total vision impairment, and be able to care for personal hygiene needs. Those with special needs must be accompanied by a caregiver or companion to handle personal needs. All Club Vision activities are free of charge, thanks to generous donors.

For more information, contact Susan Woolstenhulme, Volunteer Coordinator, at 262 – 3769 or Christine Allred, Board of Advisors at 424 – 0096.

Banned and Censured Books

Listed below and continuing on pages 7-11 are adult fiction books that have been banned or censured in the past from an American library or school.

A more extensive list, including more novels, nonfiction, and books for children and young adults, may be requested by contacting the library. Books may be ordered by listing book numbers desired on the Reader Response Sheet, by email (blind@utah.gov), online at blindlibrary.utah.gov, or by telephoning the library.
